7th International Conference on Engineering Surveying

Portugal | Lisbon | LNEC | October 18-20, 2017

SPONSORSHIP AND TECHNICAL EXHIBITION GUIDE

INVITATION

From 18th to 20th October 2017, the National Laboratory for Civil Engineering (LNEC) hosts the 7th International Conference on Engineering Surveying - INGEO2017. This Conference gathers surveying and civil engineering professionals that present and discuss new technologies, their applicability and operability in monitoring and safety evaluation of civil engineering structures. In addition to the technical sessions, invited speakers, from both surveying and civil engineering communities, present lectures on their own areas of expertise but addressed to both communities. Five top specialists in surveying techniques describe the new and also the most precise monitoring technologies, their strengths and limitations. Five top civil engineers present different types of civil engineering structures, their behaviour and monitoring needs.

INGEO is organized by the Department of Surveying of the Slovak University of Technology and LNEC in close cooperation and support from Commission 6 - Engineering Surveys - of FIG (International Federation of Surveyors). A few hundred participants are expected at INGEO2017, giving companies a unique opportunity for promoting their products and services at national and international levels. The Organizing Committee is delighted to invite your organization to support the success of this event, through the concession of a Sponsorship of INGEO2017, held at the LNEC Congress Centre, Lisbon, Portugal.

In this document you may access the terms for sponsorship programme, which, however, do not invalidate the offer of other forms of sponsorship, which can be customized to fit your requirements/objectives.

You can also participate in the Technical Exhibition, open to companies for presentation of their products and/or services related to the Conference themes. This exhibition takes place in the hall of LNEC's Congress Centre, the core area of the conference venue.

Please refer below for the Conference information, the Corporate Sponsorship and the Technical Exhibition packages and the Technical Exhibition terms. To proceed, please kindly complete the reply form.
